A Pastoral Letter to the People of the Diocese of Bethlehem

Dear Sisters and Brothers of the Diocese of Bethlehem,

Grace to you and peace from God our Father and Our Lord Jesus Christ.

On the Feast of the Holy Name, January 1st, we, the Standing Committee, became the Ecclesiastical Authority of the diocese. While we had been functioning in that role since August 1st, Bishop Paul remained our Bishop and what we did was delegated to us by him. Our role has now changed and the executive functions of the bishop under the Constitution and Canons of the Episcopal Church and the Diocese have passed to the Standing Committee until a bishop is in place. There are of course some things reserved for only a bishop and we will secure such Episcopal ministry as needed.

As stated at our Diocesan Convention in October and as has been communicated in the DioLight, we now enter into an intentional period of reflection, prayer, healing, and reconciliation as we work together to develop a hopeful vision for our future. In consultation with the Presiding Bishop's Suffragan for Pastoral Affairs, Bishop Clay Matthews, and after prayerful thought, we believe that the most effective way to do this is to elect a Bishop Provisional for the diocese. A Bishop Provisional will have the full authority of a Diocesan Bishop and would provide the pastoral, mission and administrative leadership required for a healthy and productive interim period. The Bishop Provisional would be a half to three-quarter time position and the person would be in residence in the diocese and serve until our new diocesan bishop is elected and consecrated. Toward that end, we plan in late January to announce our nomination for Bishop Provisional to the diocese and at that time call for a Special Diocesan Convention under the terms of Episcopal Church Canon III.13:1, 3 to be held in early March for the purpose of electing the Bishop Provisional.

In the meantime, the ministry of the diocese continues as we continue to work alongside your diocesan staff, Diocesan Council, the Incorporated Trustees and all the committees and commissions of the Diocese to carry on our mission in service to Christ. We ask your prayers and support as we begin this season of faithful change. We also invite your comments, concerns and ideas as we enter this new era of our common life.

Faithfully yours,

The Standing Committee of the Diocese of Bethlehem

THE MUSIC CORNER by Cora A. Gamelin-Osenbach

In the darkest days of winter, we celebrate the season of light since our Lord and Savior has been born to redeem us. Many thanks to the choir for a magnificent Lessons and Carols service and the many hours they put in preparing for that and our splendid Christmas Eve Eucharist. They are truly a blessing to this parish.

Rehearsals continue for Epiphany music and looking ahead to the Lenten season which begins on Wednesday, March 5. Anyone interested in joining the choir is welcome to come to the lounge on Wednesdays at 7:30 pm for great music and warm fellowship.

As we look forward to spring, please mark your calendars for Sunday, March 30, 2014 when organist Stephen Williams will perform in our concert series. More information will be forthcoming in the next TOPICS. Stephen played previously with flutist Nora Suggs and we are excited to have this gifted organist as a soloist in his own right.

I also want to extend thanks to our Trinity artists for sharing their gifts at the November concert – what a visual treat it was! We will most likely change the time of year for next season, so you will have plenty of time to create and be inspired before the spring of 2015!

NEWS FROM THE MARION C. PRICE TRUST FUND

Winter Wednesdays - Bleak winter days getting you down? We can help brighten up at least one of those days with Winter Wednesdays. Wednesdays, January 15 & February 12, 2014. Weather Permitting. Come to Trinity for the noon Healing Service, bring a bag lunch and stay for some fun, fellowship and games in the lounge. Coffee and tea will be provided. Call Kathy Burda at 621-3220 for more information.

Operation We Care – Thanks to you we just mailed out 130 pounds to our local servicemen and women stationed in Iraq & Afghanistan. That is 340 boxes and 3777 pounds since June, 2007 from this little corner of Schuylkill County. Thank you all for your generosity!

High Cholesterol – Cholesterol is a type of fat in your blood. Your cells need cholesterol and your body makes all it needs. But you also get cholesterol from food you eat. If you have too much cholesterol, it starts to build up in your arteries. This is called hardening of the arteries, or atherosclerosis. It usually is a slow process that gets worse as you get older. This reduces the amount of blood that gets to your body tissues, including your heart. This can lead to serious problems, including heart attack and stroke.

Cholesterol is considered high, 240 and above. It is best if your cholesterol is less than 200.

High cholesterol doesn't make you sick. By the time you find out you have it, it may already be clogging your arteries. So it is very important to start treatment even though you may feel fine.

Many things can cause high cholesterol, including:

- The foods you eat. Eating too much saturated fat, trans fat and cholesterol can raise your cholesterol. Saturated fat and cholesterol are in foods that come from animals (such as meats, whole milk, egg yolks, butter and cheese). Trans fats are in many packaged and snack foods, such as cookies, crackers and chips.
- Being overweight.
- Being inactive.
- Age. Cholesterol starts to rise after age 20.
- Family history.
- Overall health. Diseases such as hypothyroidism can raise cholesterol.

If you have high cholesterol, you need treatment to lower your risk of heart attack and stroke. The two main treatments are lifestyle changes and medicine.

Some lifestyle changes are important for everyone with high cholesterol. Your doctor will probably suggest you:

- Eat a heart-healthy diet that includes plenty of fish, fruits, vegetables, beans, high-fiber grains and breads, and healthy oils like olive oil.
- Lose weight, if you need to. Losing just 5-10 lbs. can lower your cholesterol.
- Get regular exercise on most, if not all, days of the week. Walking is great exercise that most people can do. A good goal is 30 minutes or more a day.
- Don't smoke.

Changing old habits may not be easy, but it is very important to help you live a healthier and longer life. Having a plan can help. Start with small steps. For example, commit to adding one fruit or one vegetable a day for a week.

Instead of having dessert, take a short walk.

Fire Safety Cooking-Cooking fires are the number one cause of home fires in America. Many older adults also experience burn-related injuries during cooking. Prevent fires and burns by being watchful and alert when you cook.

- Don't cook if you are sleepy, have consumed alcohol or have taken medicine or drugs that make you drowsy.
- Stay in the kitchen when you are frying, grilling or broiling food. If you leave the kitchen for even a short period of time, turn off the stove.
- If you are simmering, baking, roasting or boiling food, check it regularly. Remain in the home while food is cooking and use a timer to remind you that you are cooking.
- Turn pot handles away from the stoves edge.
- Keep cooking surfaces clean and free from anything that can catch fire.
- Never lean over a lit burner.
- Wear short, close-fitting or tightly rolled sleeves while cooking. Loose clothing can catch fire if it touches a gas flame or an electric burner.
- Check the kitchen after you finish cooking. Make sure the oven, burners and other appliances are off.
- If a fire starts, stay calm and get out. Once out call 911 from a cell phone or a neighbor's phone. Have an outside meeting place a safe distance in front of your house where first responders can see you.

Flashing Smoke Alarms – are available from Gentex. The photoelectric smoke alarms are designed to give reliable early warning of the presence of smoke where both audible and visual alarms are required. These smoke detectors provide a flashing strobe light when activated. Ideal for the deaf and hard of hearing. Meets ADA requirements.

One Resolution Worth Keeping

As we end 2013, and march steadily onward into 2014, we think of the past year filled with its many memories, and we make resolutions to have a more productive, helpful, fun, healthy, and meaningful new year. We may consider that diet we want to start, or the friends or distant family members we want to call, or the elderly neighbor we want to visit, or the extra time with the family, or to be more open to other ideas and opinions, or to get away on a long needed vacation. By February, we have forgotten our well meaning intentions. We have gotten caught up in work, taking care of an elderly parent or the children, and juggling a busy schedule.

No matter when you made your resolutions or when you broke them, one resolution worth keeping is to take the time to be kind to yourself. And you can do that without spending money at a spa or on a vacation or by buying a new car. It's free and you can do it as often as you want. Stop by at the Charles Baber garden cemetery. Take a deep breath and enjoy fifteen minutes, or a half hour, or an hour of respite. No matter what season, the atmosphere of serenity and peace found walking the many grassy leaf laden, or snow filled paths among the beckoning trees and intriguing memorial markers quiets the troubled mind and resets our tightly wound clocks and stressed nerves. The breeze may be gently blowing across our face or the wind may be howling through the trees, or the sun's warm rays may be gracing our face, or the biting snow or rain may be pelting us, the fog may be swirling around us and distorting the path we walk, or the sky may be filled with pinks, yellows, and oranges of a sunrise or sunset. Perhaps the hawks are perched on a marker or in the tree watching us, or the birds are bathing in the little stream as the squirrels are skittering along. Somehow, in these cherished moments of oneness with nature, we get lost in time, as our eyes, ears, and very being find joy in our surroundings. Time stops or at least is not important at that moment. There is just something about the softness and gentleness of being among the trees that relaxes the soul, and yes, makes many of us think about God, and about life and death. We leave with a lighter step, with a calmness about ourselves, and even perhaps with more energy to forge ahead. There will always be obstacles to hurdle and important decisions to make; but, we can always refresh and restore ourselves by returning to nature's embrace at the Charles Baber garden cemetery.

POND RESTORATION PROJECT

Our last Topic issue contained information about putting in new curbing and drainage at the 16th St. entrance ($10,540), repairing and replacing gutters and drain pipes ($43,950), cleaning out and re-grading the pond with the construction of a concrete overflow spillway ($15,500), re-grading the road and constructing a storm water infiltration\retention pond ($5,300), and engineering costs ($8,000) for a budgeted project cost of $88,000.

At this time the engineering study regarding the water volume into the storm and water system is near completion. In January or February, it will be presented to the sewer authority. Once spring comes, work can be started on the pond project. Our hope is to complete the entire project within 2014. That hope can only be realized if we are able to raise the full $88,000 to complete the pond restoration project. Our first two contributions received were from two of our retired priests (Fr. Carr and Fr. Morris). We have also received a donation from our co-chair to pay the engineering work to date. Thank you! We are deeply appreciative of the donations and truly in need of more contributions. Can you help us by making a donation to this worthy project? If you have questions or want more information regarding the pond restoration project, call Carol Field at 570-617-6704.
